Dear Nicholas,

Endorsement of the LSE-Stanford-Harvard management survey

Thank you for your letter of May 10th regarding HM Treasury endorsing your management survey, following our meeting at the end of last year.

We take a keen interest in any new research that sheds light on the role of management in increasing productivity. As you know, we follow the outcomes of your surveys very closely to support our understanding of how policy can improve productivity.

I am happy for you to mention our support for your survey when you contact firms in the UK. I am sure this survey will make a key contribution to expanding our understanding of productivity. We will be very interested to hear about your eventual findings.

Best wishes,

RISHI SUNAK

*Sounds great. Hope you're well and see you soon.
